SKILLS

I have developed my specialized curriculum over the years to reimagine how music is taught.

Each student has a custom curriculum based on their own goals designed to develop their skills in music theory and technique.

Breaking down the core of music history and life philosophies has helped my students create beautiful tones and stories across their pieces. By involving real-life experiences, I have helped troubled teens find music in their hearts to better their lives.

I have impacted the Piano Teacher community by having 3 of my students participate in my Music Teacher Program, where they learn to become teachers themselves. Each has created a successful music studio with licensed curriculums.
